"Startup Virginia's Entrepreneur Certificate Course has been a key component in our program. The course gives great insight into the nuances of entrepreneurship. Our participants enjoy the course and are excited about the ease of use."

Glenda Evans, Ph.D.

Executive Director, Virginia Workforce Innovation and Entrepreneurship Center

How We Help Startups

The incubator is our core offering, providing startup founders with individualized support and access to key people and resources to launch, fund, and grow their businesses.

→ One-On-One Guidance

Our team addresses the founder's specific business needs through regular meetings

→ Local + National Resources

Access to business tools and platform credits, student intern opportunities, and other key business resources

→ Mentors + Corporate Partners

Subject matter experts and local corporations provide guidance and pro bono support throughout the startup's journey

→ Investment Preparedness

Pitch practices, pitch deck feedback, and individualized fundraising support

"We have enjoyed all the resources and try to participate in as many programs as possible. We have grown as entrepreneurs. Startup Virginia has provided us with a great environment that inspires and motivates us."

Addie Briggs + Kim Evans
Co-Founders, Fitness DAWGS

→ High-Impact Education

Startup-focused workshops to address business needs and holistic programs to help founders build leadership skills

→ Workspace + Community

Subsidized offices, flexible workspace, and events where startups can find inspiration and connectivity

Startup Virginia gives us a space to grow our business in tandem with other entrepreneurs. We learn from companies and founders in the building and also benefit from sharing our own experiences.

Startup Virginia's Value

1 SVA helps startups grow faster and smarter than they would on their own

SVA's incubated startups consistently report revenue growth. In 2023, the 46 post-revenue companies that have been in our incubator for over a year earned $130 million in total revenue, a 23% increase from 2022. We attribute this success, in part, to the services we provide, which include valuable 1:1 guidance, high-impact education, robust networks of mentors, corporate partners, and angel investors, and dynamic subsidized workspace.

"Startup Virginia has helped me connect with the right resources at the right time — a service that is invaluable when an early-stage startup. From finding the right insurance, to working on leadership skills, to helping us get funded — I can always ask the Startup Virginia team for help and get results."

2 SVA answers a demand for entrepreneurial support

Our incubator and innovation community continues to grow, with entrepreneurs seeking our resources. In 2023, our mentors and corporate partners volunteered 226 hours per month. Our programs attracted 3,150 attendees, including 1,153 participants in our ECC and Idea Factory programs, designed to support small businesses and increase the pipeline of new innovative startups, including companies led by underrepresented entrepreneurs.

"Startup Virginia continuously provides the resources and programming necessary to succeed. Whether it's making meaningful introductions to partners and advisors or providing detailed guidance about grant applications, Startup Virginia has provided tremendous value to my startup."

DJ Lee
Founder, SeedMetrics

3 SVA drives economic growth and job creation

Our incubated startups employ a workforce of 1,453 FTE employees, adding to the local economy, the tax base of the region, and the skilled labor market. Extrapolate the average salary in Richmond to the number of employees, and our startups' total economic impact is $87 million.
